The Best Local Ingredients

They serve homemade dishes with seasonal ingredients sourced from the region. The talented chef tailors the menu based on the available ingredients during your visit, often highlighting seafood. Fish and seafood hold a significant place in the culinary traditions of northern Norway, which is frequently reflected on our plates. They also aim to introduce you to locally grown produce, such as fresh and flavorful root vegetables.

If you have special requests, the chef will be delighted to prepare customized meals to make your stay exceptional for everyone.

The bar also features local products, including whisky, vodka, gin, aquavit, and liqueurs from the world's northernmost distillery, Aurora Spirit.
