Depending on the weather, you may even catch a glimpse of Mount Assiniboine (the highest peak in the Southern Rockies at 3,600 m). Morning and evening tours provide the best opportunities to spot wildlife such as bighorn sheep, elk, moose, black bears, and grizzlies.

On the afternoon departure, enjoy a tea time or an alpine charcuterie at the charming Mt Engadine Lodge, with panoramic mountain views.

Morning and evening tours include tea, coffee, and a light snack, while the afternoon tour also features the charcuterie spread.

Hiking Option: You can add a short 30–45 minute hike on the Upper Grass Lakes Trail to admire 1,000-year-old petroglyphs and learn about the history of the Bow Valley and traditional Indigenous practices. Along the hike, you may also spot local climbers on the surrounding cliffs.
